CALLING DAYS FOR HONOLULU

Serenade for Mrs. Worthington

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Jan. 21. — A serenade was given to Mrs. Marion D.

Worthington, Hawaii's prima donna, by Jack Helehuhi and his Hawaiian quintet in the ladies' reception room, mezzanine floor, Bellevue hotel, on January 18. The guests were decorated with Hima leis, and a large flag of the territory was hung across the lobby of the Bellevue.

Among those present were Mrs.

Marion Dowsett Worthington, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Knight, Mrs. William Clift,

Miss Jean Clift, Mrs. Walter Macfarlane,

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Burnham,

Mr. and Mrs. Frederic Klapp, Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Taylor, H. W. Willis, Miss

Corner, Mrs. George Knight, Miss

Louise Girard, Mr. and Mrs. J. Marks,

Mrs. E. R. Hamilton, Mrs. A. Anderson,

Mr. and Mrs. S. Monsarrat, Miss

W. Holt, Fred Shingle, Mrs. M. Waterbury, J. Mears, Mrs. M. Winch.

Typical Hawaiian music was played, which was greatly enjoyed by many of the Bellevue hotel's guests.

At the conclusion of the program, to the great delight of the guests of the Bellevue, Mrs. Worthington, Mrs.

Macfarlane and Mr. Knight gave vocal solos.

H. W. Willis, the genial manager of the Bellevue hotel, has been complimented by a large number of the guests for what was to them a most delightful surprise.

Luncheon for Maui Amateurs.

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)

WAILUKU, Maui, Jan. 26. — Mr. and Mrs. Clarence G. White entertained yesterday at luncheon and for the afternoon the members of the amateur vaudeville show, which was given a week ago Saturday evening for the benefit of the settlement in Wailuku. The affair was given at the new beach houses of the host and hostess, and nearly 40 people were present to enjoy one of the most pleasant social affairs on Maui for a long time.

The lunch was bountiful and delicious.

The afternoon was spent swimming, in games and visiting. The affair was most informal and the guests came away thoroughly enthusiastic. They all pronounced the new cottages of their host and hostess most attractive.

Five small cottages on the Kahului side of the Wm. Seabury beach cottage have just recently been erected by Mr.

White. A garage is also built in the rear near the railroad. The view commanded from the new buildings is very fine, and the bathing is on one of the best beaches on Maui.

The site is ideal for quietness and the houses are so arranged that several families could enjoy the resort at one time.

Coming Dances.

That the dancing craze is creeping slowly, insidiously but surely upon the Honolulu public is daily brought to our minds by the increased enthusiasm and requests for affairs at which the fever may be indulged. There have been more than the usual number of private dances of late. In addition comes the Dansants which begin next Tuesday.

Now comes the announcement that of the Young and Moana hotels will give dances on the Thursdays of each week. They will begin at the Moana tomorrow at 9 o'clock and will alternate from one hotel to the other each week. Mrs. Mary Gunn will have them in charge and all the new dances will be permitted—though of course extreme ragging or anything verging upon the Barbary Coast styles will be strictly tabooed. Kaa's orchestra will furnish the music—which is another way of saying it will be excellent.

That these dances will be taken advantage of by the haut monde of Honolulu is assured by the interest already being evinced. The informality of the affairs, to say nothing of the opportunity to become familiar with all of the new dances, is bound to make them very popular. Local society folk and all members of the army and navy are cordially invited to attend the Saturday evening concerts at the Young roof garden which are proving a bait for local society people, the opening concert last Saturday drawing a large attendance. It is reported that many of Honolulu's smart set have engaged tables at the rathskellar for this coming Saturday, with the intention of taking in the music later in the evening.

In line with the general policy of providing entertainment for guests and also making the hotels a social center of Honolulu, Manager Thiele will inaugurate Wednesday evening music at the Moana hotel by a Fifth avenue orchestra, which will play until 8:30 in the dining room, and then for an hour of the hotel laulau. The popular

Sunday evening concerts at the Moana will, of course, be continued.

The Thursday dances are not to interfere with the transport dances which have become a popular feature not only with local people, but with army society going to and from the Philippines. These dances will be continued, but in the event of a transport being in port on the night of a dance at the Young, this would take the place of the affair at the Moana.

Bridge Parties at the Young.

Great interest is being shown in the series of auction bridge parties to be given on the Thursdays during February for the benefit of the Army Relief Society. These card parties will be held on the roof garden of the Young hotel at 2:30 in the afternoon and should prove a great success financially.

Some of Honolulu's most prominent women have already engaged tables for the first afternoon, which is to be on February 5, and will entertain their friends and their bridge clubs at their favorite game of auction. No more agreeable way of helping a most worthy cause could be imagined. The purpose of the Army Relief Society is to care for the widows and orphans of officers and soldiers—many of whom are dependent upon this charity. Tickets can be secured at the Young hotel, Benson, Smith, and from any of the ladies of the artillery under whose auspices the card parties are being given. In the receiving line on February 5 will be Mrs. M. M. Macomb, Mrs. E. J. Timberlake, Mrs. Edward

Carpenter, Mrs. W. M. Cruikshank, and Mrs. H. F. Nichols.

Hui Au Kai Dance.

The success of the Hui Au Kai dance more than excelled the ambitions of the girls who gave it. Three hundred or more couples tripped the light fantastic to the splendid music of Dude Miller's orchestra—a group of 15 players who generously donated their services for the occasion. The outrigger pavilion was gaily decorated with palms, vines and hundreds of little pennants, red and black, the colors of the club, predominating. No more delightful weather could have been wished for, and all things combined to make the dance one of the most enjoyable affairs of a long time.

A recent arrival in Honolulu who will be welcome not only for herself but for her sisters, Miss Bessie Searle and Mrs. George Laird, who are well-known here, was Miss Edith Searle of Oakland. The Alameda Times has the following interesting clipping of her trip:

Miss Edith Searle will leave Thursday for the Hawaiian islands in company with her aunt, Mrs. Harry D.

Lombard, who came up from Los Angeles for a week or more in San Francisco, before sailing. Mrs. Lombard and Miss Searle will go on the Korea and will be away for about seven weeks.

Miss Edith Searle has just been filling a successful engagement with one of the Oakland playhouses and is taking the trip for both the enjoyment and the benefit of the rest and change of scene.

Mrs. Wallace M. Alexander of California is entertaining this week at a large card party in honor of Mrs.

Harry F. Lewis of Honolulu. Mrs.

Alexander will open her handsome new home in Piedmont for the occasion.

Mrs. Laurence Kaufman and Mrs.

Kirkwood Donavin have sent out cards for a "circus party" which they will give in Vallejo next Friday evening.

All the guests will go attired to represent animals, and a gala time is anticipated.

Mr. Sidney E. Locke, the brother of Mrs. L. Tenney Peck, who has been her guest for the past month, sailed on the Manchuria yesterday for his home in Hartford, Conn.

Miss Inez Pischel, who is well known in Honolulu, was the complimented guest at a luncheon last week given by Mrs. Shirley Walker at her home in San Francisco.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Krusi and Miss

Priscilla Krusi of California sailed on the Manchuria yesterday after a delightful six weeks in Hawaii.
